Preliminary Figures For Property Assessments Show Slight Increase

Assessments on property in Crawford County increased about 2.7 percent overall for 1985 according to tentative figures released by the county equalization office.

In 1984, property assessments increased about 3.5 percent overall in the county and in 1984, assessments declined slightly about 0.5 percent.

The residential, commercial, industrial, and agricultural base in Crawford County is tabbed at $173,850,331 for 1985 according to the tentative ratios. Board of Review reductions and increases could change the total. New property is not included in the base figure.

This year, the county expects to have K mart on the tax rolls for the first time and 25 percent of the value of the Shell sulphur recovery plant north of Frederic. Only 25 percent of the value of the plant can be assessed because it was not in operation as of December 31, 1984.

With the tentative 2.7 percent increase in the county's base and with new property added to the rolls, the county's overall equalized values could increase to about 5 percent above last year.

County Equalization Director Larry Hunter said any increase is subject to the Headlee Amendment. The Headlee Amendment, which uses a Consumer Price Index as an inflation guide, limits the amount of taxes that can be collected on county equalized value increases above the Consumer Price Index.

In residential property, which amounts to about 80 percent of the county tax base, Lovells Township showed the largest increase. A number of waterfront sales in the area drove up recreational property values and the overall residential assessments increased 14 percent.

Maple Forest showed a 10 percent increase, Frederic Township had a 6 percent increase, and the City of Grayling 2.8 percent increase overall in residential assessments. Grayling Township, Beaver Creek, and South Branch showed no increase overall from the total assessment values of last year for residential property.

In the city about 220 residences experienced increases as the value of homes in the $15,000 to $18,000 range generally increased into the $20,000 to $25,000 range. The real estate market sets the value for assessing property and the individual townships and city are responsible for their own Property owners may appeal assessments to local Boards of Review, which are meeting in March.

Unemployment Here Shows Steady Drop

Unemployment in Crawford County declined steadily in 1984 according to Michigan Employment Security Commission statistics.

In August, 1984, Crawford County reached a low mark of this decade dipping to 10.7 percent unemployment. The latest MESC figures available show the county at 12.8 unemployment for September, 1984.

During September, 1984, Otsego County recorded 8.7 percent unemployment, Oscoda 11.0 percent, Roscommon 11.1 percent, and Ogemaw 11.8 percent. In September, 1984, MESC figures showed a workforce of 4475 in Crawford County with 3900 employed and 575 unemployed. The figures do not include persons whose unemployment benefits have run out or persons who have stopped looking for work through the MESC office.

Here are January through September unemployment rates for 1984 compared to 1983 figures that show a decline in Crawford County.

Jan. '83, 21.6 percent - Jan. '84 18.8 per-

Feb. '83, 21.1 percent - Feb. '84, 18.6 per-

March '83, 23.5 percent - March '84, 19.4 April '83, 20.1 percent - April '84, 15.3 percent. May '83, 19.9 percent - May '84, 14.9 per-

June '83, 18.1 percent - June, '84, 13.9

July '83, 14.9 percent - July '84, 11.4 per-

Aug. '83, 14.2 percent - Aug. '84, 10.7 per-

Sept. '83, 14.1 percent - Sept. '84, 12.8 percent.

The biggest increases in jobs appears to be durable goods manufacturing. Lumber and other woods products accounted for most of a 125-job increase in this category over the last year and a half.

Old Man Winter Still Has Tricks Left Up Sleeve

By Jon Thompson

Don't put the snowblower away yet. Don't cancel that extra order of firewood. And be sure not to put those longjohns in hibernation yet.

Our friendly Michigan winter is hardly finished yet and even those odds-makers in warm Las Vegas would bet Old Man Winter has a few more shots for us.

Don't let this mild February weather fool you into taking off storm windows. Look at Old Man Winter's track record and what may be yet in store for us.

We all remember the wonderful warm February thaw last year. Yet according to weather records by C.F. Fick, of Grayling, most of the snow on the ground didn't leave until March 24, 1984, and banks of snow hung around into April.

Remember the 56-degree day in February last year? Well, do you also remember that from March 6th to March 12th the temperature dipped from minus ten below to minus 26 below for six straight nights?

In 1983, most of the snow on the ground was gone by March 1 - but that was another sleight of hand by that trickster Mr. Winter. On March 21, a blizzard hit Crawford County and northern Michigan and restocked our snow piles one foot high.

On March 24th and 25th the temperature dropped to minus 14 and minus 10 that year. Most of the snow left the ground by April 5, 1983.

In 1982, there was no sneaky tricks by Old Man Winter. He came out and bashed us all right in the face.

On March 1st, 1982, there were 25 inches on the ground. Not happy enough, the someone starting plants on their windowsill because he sent more snow. By March 9th there were 32 inches on the ground. That year, old grumpy was so mad at cankerous old joker must have spotted someone, he sent minus 20 degree temperature here on March 3 and minus 22 degree weather on March 8. He ignored the calendar that year and still had 15 inches of his white troopers massed on the ground by the end of March. On April 3 and 4, he sent in reinforcements in their typical blizzard attack and the county had 17 inches of snow on the ground April 5th in addition to 10-below temperature. Not until April 18, 1982, did the Spring cleaning lady come with her broom and rains and sweep the grumpy old poor sport off to the north.

In 1981, Old Man Winter must have had the flu and been throwing up too much to cause much discomfort to others. There were only five inches of snow on the ground and most of the snow was gone from the ground by March 21.

In 1980, the old grump had a high fever and had to lower temperatures around here for health reasons, of course. On March 1, it was 26 degrees below zero. The next night his fever must have peaked because it reached 34 degrees below zero in Crawford County. The temperatures continued to dip below zero six times from March 6 to March 15.

On April 6th, the old geezer must have felt better. He dropped a foot of snow on us as a farewell present - something to remember him by until the next winter.

In the next few weeks, watch out for similar gifts from the old spoilsport. If he sends the snow or cold UPS, send it back.

Good Students Rewarded At Grayling Business

By Kristin Casier MSU Journalism Student

Area youths now have a place for fun and games that may uphold standards similar to those at home.

Silly Sam's Arcade, on Grayling's Michigan Avenue, may not be quite as restrictive as home, but parents can be sure their children are under careful watch when they are customers at Sam's.

"Parents probably feel better because of the rules," said Joe LaGrow, 16, a frequent Sam's visitor. Herluf Moshier, owner of Silly Sam's, said the community may have a better attitude about his business than it has had about local arcades of the past.

One reason for this attitude is Moshier's encouragement of good behavior in his young customers.

Silly Sam's is open only after school and on weekends, so students are not tempted to play hooky from school.

Moshier said he doesn't encourage students to spend all their study time at Silly Sam's either. Kids can gear their studying towards the purpose of having fun.

Silly Sam's gives free game tokens for good report cards to inspire students to go to class and come out with good grades, he

"Last marking period I gave away 1,513 free games," he said.

Moshier not only encourages good behavior, he goes out of his way to avoid bad behavior. Moshier enforces many rules, but two absolute no-no's exist: "No alcohol and no drugs," he said. Breaking either of these rules entitles the offending customer to a "permanent vacation," Moshier said. Even talking about drugs is forbidden. Moshier said he also tries not to encourage smoking by not selling cigarettes or making matches available to customers. "I don't promote smoking," he said. "But if kids want to do so, it's their choice.' Swearing is also not permitted. Younger children come in too, and they do not need to hear foul language, Moshier said. Moshier also protects younger kids from the harassment of the older ones. He said bullies must get through him first. As long as the customers follow the rules and treat the equipment and each other with respect, Sam's is almost like home, he said. (Kris Casler, a 1983 GHS graduate, is a sophomore at MSU.)

From Our Corner...

Whitey Madsen

The long sought for January thaw finally arrived this past week throughout Michigan and even though when the thaw comes it also brings along the ugly, dirty looking snow banks and plenty of mud puddles...after our winter, we're not complaining about the sight of dirty snow when we can think that it is just a short while before it is all gone, and also the chance of real cold weather is not expected during March, we may get a good snowstorm but, that doesn't last like the snow we get in December...we mentioned before, that the snow had completely covered our benches in the back yard, well, this Sunday we looked and the snow must have gone down a good foot...there is something about the thought of spring that makes the body warm...

We were asked a number of times last week when it was raining and the snow was disappearing what we would be writing about now that the weather has taken a change for the better...you know something, those were good questions, because right now we don't have the faintest idea of how we will fill this turkey for this week...maybe if we took a walk around the block some inspiration would hit the ol' noggin...

We could write about our den but, that doesn't make much sense when nothing has been done in clearning out the stuff so, we have put that back on the back burner and will just let things fall where they may, then maybe some day we will be surprised ...(which I doubt very much)...we have been tinkering with the idea of purchasing a typewriter stand that has wheels, then I could put my typewriter on it, there is no room to put other stuff, so we are safe from the idea of having our typewriter lost, and with the wheels I could wheel it into the living room, the dinette, the kitchen, and even into our den which is on the back burner...that sounds like a good idea, that way I could have a different environment whenever we wished...oh well, I guess this is just Sunday rafternoon wishful thinking, and filling for the turkey...

Quite a few years ago we were talking to Jim Fitzgerald, columnist for the Detroit Press, at a -summer Michigan Press convention and in the con-Eversation he mentioned if it took him over 20 minutes to write his column he was wasting his time...geez if I had that kind of talent I would be home safe...at that time Jim was the Editor of the Lapeer County Press, and did more than just write shis column "If It Fitz"...just think, 20 minutes, maybe if I could do that then I would be able to find. time to take up golf again...

On second thought, maybe we should take up something different, the fellas at the links didn't like it too much when we would pray for rain on Wednesday (our league afternoon) we only did it because we got tired of holding down our partner Dr. Hookielau Hoffman, Grayling's friendly optometrist, and also ashamed of the scores we used to have to post on the bulletin board...we do remember one day we had a good round, we had a 72, the problem was that it was for only 9 holes...on triple thought, we will stay in retirement...

We talked to Dane out in Nevada Saturday night, and he mentioned the weather was starting to get warm, the sun is out but, with a chilly wind at times...we put in our order for real nice 80 degree temp for the last part of March so when we are out there I can get rid of this cabin fever I acquired the past two months...we're going to spend a few days with our Buckeye family and don't expect much nicer weather than we have right here, so, hopefully Vegas will take care of the winter doldrums...

We smiled Blue Saturday night although it was a bit shaky, U of M escaped the Spartans of Michigan State with a 75-73 win that went right down to the last second with State having the last shot...I don't know about Judge Emil, Bob and Freddie but the ol' fella had a couple cardiac arrests...

This takes care of this week's turkey, right now it is beginning to be all that we can think of is joining the jet set and taking in Vegas, so, we will bid T.J., Stefany and Amber goodnight, and to all of our readers, do have a nice weekend....

Although the Blue Devils are low in conference standing, they have shown lots of improvement of late and are expected to give the Vikings a battle. Friday night's game is more than just a traditional battle with arch-rival Gaylord. A win for Grayling could mean at least a tie for second place in conference play with Harbor Springs or possible outright possession of second if the Rams should stumble. Pellston with a win last Friday night took sole possession of first place in the conference and a standing which no hoop team can possibly overcome.

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

SCHOOL PRAYER

Our country was founded upon a common belief and practice of prayer. Benjamin Franklin called our forefathers together in prayer before the United States Constitution was written. We have state chaplains who open various government activities in prayer. When our schools first started, most of them were in churches, the pastor was the teacher, and the Bible was the textbook. Prayer was a normal activity of the day.

Prayer implies belief in a God. Prayer in any public place is a witness that one believes in God. This kind of public worship is highly offensive to all atheists. agnostics, secular humanists, and communisits. It is no wonder that they fought to remove it from our public schools.

In essence, the state has violated the spirit and letter of the first amendment to the constitution by forbidding the free exercise of religion and establishing a national religion of secular humanism to replace all such expression. The Honorable Samuel I. Hayakawa stated it well, "An educational heresy has flourished, a heresy that rejects the idea of education as the acquisition of knowledge and skills...the heresy of which I speak regards the fundamental task in education as therapy." Hayakawa is former President of San Francisco State College, and a former United States Senator from California. On the national level, public education has become a tool of secular humanism to undermine the religious and family values of our youth. Now we see the difficulty and danger of trying to bring prayer and the Bible back into the classroom. Before the 1950's it was just a natural part of education, now it would challenge and conflict with the work and goals of secular humanists. Could such a person be expected to be fair in supervising any form of public prayer? There is the danger that some form of state influenced prayer might develop within our school systems. The dangers are great if we support school prayer, they are even greater if we oppose it. There is no easy solution in warfare. Strong Christian school teachers and parents are the key.

The apostle Paul gave us a perfect example in prayer, "And when he had thus spoken, he took bread, and gave thanks to God in presence of them all; and when he had broken it, he began to eat." Acts 27:35. Paul was not pastoring a church, but a prisoner on a ship at the time. Prayer is not a choice, but a com-"Pray without mand. ceasing." I Thess 5:17. "I will therefore that men pray everywhere lifting up holy hands, without wrath and doubting." I Tim 2:8.

THE IRREPRESSIBLE

Selected For Mental Health Aging Project

The Crawford County Commission on Aging has been selected by the Office of Services to the Aging and the Department of Mental Health to participate in a mental health and aging project. The project, known as Building Ties, is cosponsored by OSA and DMH in cooperation with the Area Agency on Aging Association of Michigan. "The Crawford County Commission on Aging" is one of twelve agencies selected statewide to participate in this initiative.

As part of the project, a local interagency committee has been formed to address the mental health needs of the elderly in Crawford

The members include: Barbara Selesky, Chairperson, Kay Gay, Grayling Health Care Center, Ellen Goodman, Dept. of Social Services, Guy Quigley, Housing Com-Grayling mission, Sherry Haag, Commission on Aging, Debbie Larson, Mercy Hospital, Rick Mrazik, Mental Health, Mary Ann Christenson, Nemsca, Marie Mahaney, Health Department, Paula White, Michigan Home Health Care.

Older adults have been underserved by the public mental health system. This project will assess the mental health needs of the elderly locally and develop a plan of action to meet those needs.

The committee/task force will be meeting monthly for the next ten months to develop cooperation and coordination between the many human service resources in this area. The committee will also be addressing new program development in this area.

For more information or if you'd be interested in participating contact Sherry Haag, 348-7123.

Daniels Den

March is almost here! Will it come in like a lion or a lamb? Whichever we hope it brings nicer weather than Feb. brought us. Whatever the weather though, it is always warm and friendly at Daniels Den. This Saturday, March 2, we will have a game night and a VRC movie. Last month we viewed Chariots of Fire, which was enjoyed by everyone. We haven't decided on which film we will view, as it depends on availability, however, there are many films to choose from, so we hope you won't be disappointed. There will be Bible Trivia, many other games and lots of fellowship. So plan to join us.

Daniels Den is open every Saturday evening from 7:30 to 11:00 p.m. Movie or entertainment starts about 8:00 p.m. The Den is located on the corner of the I-75 business loop and West M-72. A variety of snack food is available, and there are books and records for loan in the upper room. There is no charge for admission at the Den, however, donations are accepted for the furtherance of the ministry.

For more information, call Helen at 348-7684 or 348-5289.

We are particularly grateful to our school staff members who came back to school on a snowy evening to present their workshops for parents. Our thanks to Pat Nunn, Dave Hawkins, Gayle Mills, and Pat Hawkins for their cooperation and support.

Dr. Stan Delidow from the COOR Intermediate School District drove through snow to share his ideas on what makes a good elementary school. We appreciate his willingness to participate, and thank him for sparking good discussion among the parents in attendance.

Finally, our thanks to Jeff Kolka, custodian at Grayling Elementary, for his help in setting up the meeting room and preparing classrooms for

Grayling Elementary Kindergarten Round-up

Registration for the 1985-86 kindergarten class will be held on March 6 and 7 at the Elementary Grayling School. Children who will be 5 years of age on or before December 1, 1985 are eligible to enroll for kindergarten. Registration will be done by appointment only from 9:00 to 11:30 a.m. and 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. on March 6 and 7. Please call the school (348-7641, ext. 46) to schedule your appointment. If you are not able to attend the registration on March 6 or 7 it is extremely important that you contact the school by February 22 to discuss other arrangements.

Early registration of kindergarten children is extremely important as State requirements must be met before a child can be permitted to attend school. Children entering a public school in Michigan must meet immunization requirements, have vision and hearing testing, a physical exam, and produce a certificate of birth. Vision and hearing screening will be held on March 18, 19, and 20. Clinics for physical exams will also be scheduled for this spring. All children registered for kindergarten will be scheduled with appointments for these clinics. Immunization clinics are held monthly at the Health Dept.

I urge you to enroll early and attend the preschool clinics to prepare your child for school. Children not meeting State requirements will not be permitted to enter school.

Please bring your child's immunization records and birth certificate for registration. If you do not have these documents, but intend to enter your child in school in September, please call the school at once.

TIME ONCE MORE for one of our infrequent strolls, barefoot among the pot-

ISEE BY THE PAPER that Caspar Weinberger, secretary of defense, is up to his armpits defending the whopping Pentagon budget request. Freedom demands every penny of the $314 billion requested for fiscal 1986, he vows.

Why, to even keep the same 1985 spending level of $285 billion — the budget "freeze" being considered by some in Washington would "decimate" the nation's defense, Weinberger told Congress recently.

He said a freeze would, among other things, eliminate an Army division, cause a four-year delay in production of the B-1 bomber, bring a 38 percent reduction in tactical aircraft purchases, end the C-17 transport airlift program, stop production of the F-16 combat aircraft, delay deployment of the Trident II missile by two years, delay replacing engines on the C-5 transport plane by three years, deactivate an Air Force wing, and retire one-third of the Navy's destroyers.

WHEW! AND THAT'S only for starters. Weinberger told a Senate committee the whole list of potential cutbacks was too long to read.

His testimony reminded me of the warnings of some school leaders when a millage vote comes before the voters. We've all heard about all the dire things that would happen if the voters said "no." No football, 'no band, schools closed, etc.

- Frequently voters have turned down millage, and schools continue to operate. So would the Pentagon, Mr. Weinberger's fears notwithstanding.

Sounds suspiciously like a young boy crying "Wolf!" - a lesson some local school personnel have a tough time digesting, too.

GOOD HOUSEKEEPING magazine's "most admired" list for 1984 contained a few surprises — at least, they were for me. President Ronald Reagan headed the list of "most admired" men for the second year · in a row, and Nancy Reagan jumped from 16th the year before to the top woman's spot in 1984, replacing Mother Teresa.

Mother Teresa came in second on the women's list, which also included Phyllis Schlafly, Jeane Kirkpatrick, Pat Nixon, Margaret Thatcher, Princess Diana, Geraldine Ferraro, Sandra Day O'Connor and Elizabeth Dole.

Over on the men's list, after Mr. Reagan, appeared Rev. Jerry Falwell, Rev. Billy Graham, Pope John Paul, Bob Hope, Lech Walesa, Lee Iacocca, Alan Alda, Tom Selleck and Rev. Norman Vincent Peale.

Several thoughts stand out:

The lack of entertainment or glamour personalities on the women's list, in favor of politically-oriented women, is one interesting point. (Princess Di is debatable in this context.)

And the dominance of religion-oriented personalities on the men's list - Revs. Falwell, Graham and Peale, and Pope John Paul make up 40 percent of the Top Ten — is What does it mean? Make your own interpretation. But it's very interesting.

A RECENTLY reported study by the Bureau of National Affairs shows that union memberships declined sharply in 1981-2. For the first time since 1968 when such measurements began, union membership dropped below 20 million persons.

U.S. union membership in 1982 total 19.8 million, compared with 20.7 million in 1969 and 22.8 million in 1974. In 1982, union members made up 17.9 percent of the civilian workforce; in 1970 it had peaked at 25.7 percent.

No interpretation by me; just thought I'd mention the figures.

Anti-Crime Package Pending Before Legislature

Warren M. Hoyt, Executive Dir., MPA

House Speaker Gary Owen (D-Ypsilanti) recently announced details of an II-bill package aimed at cutting crime by improving sentencing guidelines, permitting restitution to victims and limiting the time a prisoner can cut from a sentence under the emergency powers act.

He said the package provided "safe-'guards' for society and crime victims and added the package could force the state to plan for more prison construction than the six new facilities already under considera-

Owen said enacting a sentencing guidelines bill will be the highest priority out of the package.

He criticized the Senate for failing to act on a similar measure which passed the House last year, saying it was held up because one senator was interested in a judgeship.

Owen said all the bills should be acted on in the House by the summer recess.

The package is part of an "ongoing evaluation process" conducted with other legislators and crime fighting officials, and is an attempt to deal with all the major crime problems that officials see.

One area the package does not include, Owen admitted, is an anti-auto theft bill. He said he anticipates a measure on auto parts theft will be introduced, although it would not be part of the package he unveiled.

And the package does not deal with constitutional changes to permit the death penalty. He said there are not enough legislative votes to put a constitutional amendment either requiring or permitting the death penalty on the ballot. The best route for supporters of the death penalty to pursue, he said, is through the petition procedure. Such a petition drive is underway, led by Oakland County Prosecutor L. Brooks Patterson.

Under the sentencing guidelines bill, a sentencing guidelines commission would be formed which would establish a range of sentences for specific crimes. In effect, such guidelines, would remove much of the flexibility judges now have in sentencing different persons for similar crimes. The guidelines measure would also abolish the state parole board, grant specific rights to appeal from both the state and defense when a sentence falls outside the established range, require a two-year supervised community re-entry period all convicts would have to serve after release, and require the sentencing guidelines commission to recommend any changes it considers necessary in the proposal.

Other parts of the package would limit the maximum reduction a prisoner could receive under the emergency overcrowding act to 18 months for non-violent offenders and 12 months for violent offenders.

All "good time" sentence reduction systems for non-violent prisoners would be eliminated and replaced with disciplinary credits.

New limitations on half-way houses would be set with specific staffing requirements and new prisoner regulations.

Crime victims would be allowed to be reimbursed for psychological counseling and the period in which a victim can file a claim with the Crime Victims Compensation Board would be expanded.

The package would also require presentence reports to include information about specific suffering of the victim; permit local prosecutors and the attorney general's office to bring forfeiture actions against any profits criminals may have earned and place those in state and local general funds: permit courts to sentence juveniles to perform community service or make restitution to victims; establish a broader definition of restitution, and create a community corrections program to allow non-violent, low-risk criminals sentencing alternatives other than prison.

Owen said he expected the package would result in a larger prison population than is currently contemplated by state officials.

He said he anticipates the Department of Corrections will plan their prison construction needs accordingly and the Legislature will respond with a plan to construct and convert current facilities into the necessary prison facilities to house the criminals.

By Charles VanderRoest, D.O. If your child has asthma, you know how frightening attacks of this illness can be. By its nature, asthma exhibits itself in the sudden onset of breathing difficulties, wheezing, and coughing usually without warning. The look of fear on a child's face during an attack has a very unnerving effect on parents and siblings. This article presents a brief overview of childhood asthama along with current thoughts on treat-

A child with wheezing breath sounds always demands attention. The most common cause of wheezing in children is asthma. Frequently, the treatment of wheezing is also the treatment of asthma. There are other causes of wheezing in children, however, which need to be ruled out by your doctor before any treatment is begun. The most dangerous cause of wheezing that needs to be ruled out is a blockage of the child's airway. There are also conditions that assowith ma...especially allergies. Wheezing, the paramount symptom of asthma, is caused by uneven airflow in the bronchial tree. This uneven flow is brought about by a variety of causes e.g., irritation, mucus, smooth muscle spasm, or infection. Childhood asthma can begin anytime after birth, but the peak incidence of onset is ages three to sixteen. Early symptoms of asthma are wheezing breath sounds. Shortness of breath, rapid breathing, use of accessory respiratory muscles, excessive mucus production and a bluish discoloration of the lips, face or nail beds, may be present as well. Because of the allergic nature of the disease, most asthma is seasonal. Common allergens include pet dander, dust, pollen, mediations, e.g. aspirin, foods, cold air, smoke, and exercise. If you need to take your child to the emergency room for an asthma attack, treatment is begun promptly following an examination. The treatment usually begins with a subcutaneous injection of epinephrine (adrenalin). Epinephrine has a rapid onset of action and acts to open and relax the smooth muscle in the air-

Epinephrine also has a short duration of action. Other treatments such as inhaled medication should administered mediately to continue the smooth muscle relaxation. Inhaled medicines have a rapid onset of action, are delivered where most needed, and have a longer duration of action than epinephrine. These medications are available in pocket inhalers that allow older children to treat themselves. Most children tolerate inhaled medications very Severe cases of asthma may require intravenous medications to open the airways. Intravenous medications tend to have a longer duration of action than epinephrine or inhalers. There are also oral medicines that are used to keep the airways open. Oral and inhaled medicines allow asthmatics to begin treatment on their own while enroute to the hospital or their physician's office.

Home treatment of all asilunatics should include removal of all possible allergens from the child's environment. Start with the bedroom; clean the room completely, including the ceiling and all curtains, wall hanging rugs, spreads, etc.

Presented locally by CMU Public Broadcasting this popular family offering features one of the musical theatre's most memorable scores including: "As Long As He Needs Me", "Consider Yourself", "Food Glorious Food" and a host of others. Dickens' masterpiece traces the young Oliver from starving deprivation of a pauper's workhouse through his quivering apprenticeship to a cruel undertaker, into the clutches of the lovable scoundrel Fagin and his school for precocious pickpockets, and finally to the safety of his long lost grandfather. This light and lyrical adaptation has been slightly altered from Dickens' original classic. Bart changed Fagin from a repellent leech to a comic fairy tale ogre; an eccentric miser delicately directing his city-jungle juveniles in their trade. Although filled with such evil-doers, Oliver! is also populated by an enchanting crew of rollicking ragamuffins (Fagin's apt pupils and inmates of the dreary workhouse) who turn the show into a festival of

This large and lavish musical is produced by Music Theatre Associates of New York City. Oliver! features a cast drawn from New York and throughout the country. Joe Inscoe appears as Fagin, the droll professor of pick-pocketry and Elizabeth Van Den Berg is featured as the compassionate and firey Nancy. The delightfully mischievious children's cast has been selected from the top talents at the School for the Creative and Performing Arts in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Oliver! is indeed a funfilled treasure for families to share. For reservations, call the Warriner Box Office at (517) 774-3000.

Shearer to Chair Bike-A-Thon

The Central Regional Office of St. Jude Children's Research Hospital announced today that Mike Shearer has agreed to chair the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Bike-a-Thon in Grayling.

Children's St. Jude Research Hospital was founded by entertainer Danny Thomas. The institution opened its doors to the public in 1962 to combat catastrophic diseases which afflict our children. St. Jude Hospital is non-sectarian, non-discriminatory, provides total medical care to over 4,200 patients.

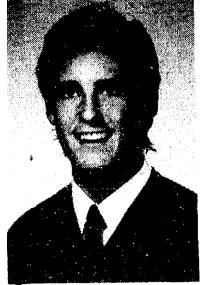

At St. Jude, scientists and physicians are working side by side seeking not only a better means of treatment, but also the causes, cures and prevention of these terrible killers.

All findings and information gained at the hospital are shared freely with doctors and hospitals all over the world. Thanks to St. Jude's, children who have Hodgkin's leukemia, disease, sickle cell anemia, and other child killing diseases now have a better chance to live.

The Bike-a-Thon program is dedicated to "Jaime". Jaime is from Ohio and was diagnosed with leukemia in May of 1983, and began treatment at St. Jude Children's Research Hospital. Today, her cancer is in remission and she is doing quite well. Jaime is a living example of the progress and success of the research, patient care, and educational programs of this internationally recognized hospital. We sincerely appreciate the concern that Mike Shearer has for our work and we hope the citizens of Grayling will support the Bike-a-Thon this spring to help provide the funds that are needed to preserve the worlds greatest asset..."Our Children."

Receives Scholarship

James P. Radebaugh, currently a Junior at Ferris State College, was recently awarded the James Stewart Memorial Scholarship.

This scholarship was established by the Opticians Association of Michigan for a second year Ophthalmic Dispensing student. James is also a third year Business Administration student.

He will be graduating from Ophthalmic Dispensing this spring and from Business Administration in the spring of 1986.

James is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Sabin of Grayling.

Resource Review

By Bruce Patrick Conservation Officer

Since 1943 Michigan has officially recognized problems associated with ice shanties. That is the year the Legislature passed the law requiring the name and full address of the owner to be affixed on all sides of the shanty.

The law also requires that a shanty be removed from the ice "before ice conditions appear unsafe for its removal." Failure remove a shanty in time is a violation of the Act. If the state removes the shanty. the person whose name is on the shanty can be assessed the cost of removal, in addition to fines and costs.

This year many people may be tempted to neglect the removal of their shanty. Nasty slush conditions have made travel on lakes difficult and unpleasant in many instances. If you are responsible for a shanty, please insure that it is properly removed. Simply burning a shanty to dispose of it is unlawful.

Dental Decay Prevention Stressed by Area Dentists

Just as some dentists are interested in a particular type of dental treatment, others are concerned with a particular group of people.

Take children, for example. Only in the past fifty years has the importance of healthy primary (baby) teeth been recognized. Yet these are the only teeth the child will have for the first six years of life, and some of them will remain in the child's mouth until about age 12. As well as being used for chewing, speaking, and smiling, the primary teeth also reserve space in the jaw for the permanent teeth. If a primary tooth is lost too early, the teeth beside it may drift into the empty space. This may not leave enough room for the permanent tooth when it is ready to come in.

Dentists recommend that children have their first dental examination before age 3. During this examination, the child's mouth will be checked to see if there are dental problems developing. If such problems already exist, they can be treated before serious damage occurs. The dentist can also advise the parents on how the child should get the fluoride needed for good dental health and can show the parents how to brush and floss the child's teeth. Finally, early dental visits help the child and the dentist establish a friendly relationship that can help lead to a lifetime of good dental habits.

At the other end of the spectrum are those dentists with a special interest in the properly.

problems of the elderly. As about half of those over age 65 have at least some of their natural teeth, these problems include far more than the making or refitting of dentures. For example, two out of three cavities occuring in people over 50 are recurrent decay - that is, decay in areas that were decayed and filled earlier. Today's older adults usually have many such repaired areas because they grew up without the benefits of fluoridated water and other ways of getting fluroide. Also, since many of them have receding gums, they are at increased risk of decay affecting the roots of the teeth.

Periodontal disease also becomes more common as people grow older. Roughly two-thirds of those over 65 have at least the early stages of this disease, which can cause the loss of healthy

Some older adults have difficulty brushing and flossing their teeth because of arthritis. Others cannot get the nutrients they need for good general health because they have trouble chewing. Still others may have a condition called "dry mouth" in which the supply of saliva is greatly reduced.

Whatever the state of their dental health, all older adults should see a dentist regularly. Even those who no longer have their own teeth should visit a dentist at least yearly for an oral examination and to make sure their dentures fit

What is alcoholism and why is it considered a chemical dependency?

Chemical dependency occurs when a person becomes physically and/or psychologically reliant on a chemical substance such as alcohol, pills or "street drugs". Because alcohol is a sedative drug, alcoholism is considered a chemical dependency.

Above all, alcoholism is a disease. A disease that affects men, women and teenagers in ever-increasing numbers and usually involves the use of more than one drug. The use of other drugs or chemicals such as sleeping pills, validm or marijuana, in combination with alcohol is called cross-dependency.

A 28-day residential treatment center for alcoholism and other chemical dependencies is now open at Alpena General Hospital.

4 GHS Matmen In State Finals

Barsie Cross, Bucky Monforton, Ron Wyman, and Tim Moore qualified for the state wrestling finals to be held Friday and Saturday in Middleville, near Grand Rapids.

Cross carries an undefeated record, 17-0, into the finals. Last Saturday at regional action in Montebella, Cross took first place in the 185 pound weight division with three straight wins. He won by pin, a 12-3 decision, and won 6-0.

Monforton, only a freshman, took second at 98 pounds. He won by two decisions before losing in the finals. Monforton carries a 34-13 record into the finals and becomes only the second Grayling wrestler to make the state finals as a freshman. Burt Partello, a state champion, was the only other GHS wrestler to do it.

Ron Wyman 3rd Regional

Ron Wyman took third at 145 pounds at the regionals. He won three matches and lost one. Wyman takes a 25-5 record to the finals.

Tim Moore took fourth at 132 pounds at regionals. He won two and lost two but takes an impressive 36-10-2 record to the finals.

Registration for Co-op Nursery

Now is the time for registering your three and four year old children for the 1985-86 school year at the Grayling Co-operative Nursery School.

The Co-op Nursery is a private, non-profit school operated by the parents. A board is selected of parents whose children attend the school. The classroom program is presented by a state certified teacher hired by the board.

"What's Happening in Elementary School?"

What makes a good elementary school? Is it good children, outstanding teachers. top-notch facilities, or exceptional curriculum programs? Or are good elementary schools the result of strong community support, a dedicated Board of Education, and skilled administration?

Dr. Stan Delidow, of the COOR Intermediate School District, spoke about each of these parts of an elementary school when he met with parents on Monday, Feb. 18, as the featured speaker at a program sponsored by the Crawford-AuSable Parents Group at the Grayling Elementary School.

"Children do not make a good school," Delidow stressed.

All schools must teach a variety of children. One of the best elementary school Delidow visited, he said, was an inner city school in Detroit. The quality of school does not depend on the quality of children, acTeachers add to the school's quality, but they are not the "prime factors" in determing that quality. Delidow emphasized the importance of teachers having opportunites to continue their professional development. "Good teachers require both experience and training," he said.

A school building must be "safe and well-maintained" to be conducive to good education, said Delidow. Studies have indicated some environments are more helpful to learning than others, yet the building itself is still not a prime factor of school quality, he said.

Neither is curriculum a prime factor in determining the quality of a school. Delidow felt that what is taught and how it is taught is "terribly important," but still not the area that separates good schools from mediocre schools.

He cited community supthe Board of Education, and the school's administration as being the prime factors in discovering the quality of a school.

Delidow stated studies show people who about education care produce good schools. Caring means economic support, a consistency of values, and positive concern, he said. A supportive community does not deny problems when they exist. Community members are willing to become part of the solution rather than part of the problem.

The local school board is also a prime factor and contributes to school quality when its members are there for "genuine educational concerns." Delidow said boards must not be torn by politics but must be able to express legitimate educational needs and show concern for both the economic and educational well-

Administrators, ticularly principals, are key to the quality of a school, he said. "The principal can make a difference." Delidow emphasized. He called for principals to be involved in the educational process, and to learn to plan and cause change. A crucial role of principals is to support the professional growth of teachers, he said.

being of the district.

Following Delidow's talk, parents selected workshops presented by members of the Frederic and Grayling elementary schools staff.

Frederic principal, Dave Hawkins, presented an overview of what children learn through the first six years of schooling.

Pat Hawkins, Frederic kindergarten teacher, spoke about readiness for kindergarten and offered ideas for parents to use for their children at home. Mrs. Hawkins also explained the new developmental kindergarten program offered at the Frederic school.

Elementary discipline was the subject of workshop led by Melvin Nunn, Grayling principal.

The Advanced Studies program at the elementary level was described in another workshop by Gayle Mills, coordinator of the district's gifted and talented program.

Twenty five parents attended the program in spite of bade weather and slippery roads.

The Crawford AuSable Parents Group is a nonprofit corporation organized to promote strong communication between home and school. Meetings are normally held the second Tuesday of each month at 7:30 p.m. in the county courthouse basement. All parents of children in the district are invited to attend.

Co-op Youth Invited To Youth Days '85

Area high school students will learn about farm and consumer cooperatives at Michigan Rural Electric Youth Days '85 to be held April 25th and 26th, 1985 at the 4-H Kettunen Center, Tustin. This fourth annual event is sponsored by Top O' Michigan Rural Electric Cooperative, along with other rural electric co-ops in the state.

Three (3) students from each rural electric cooperative will be selected to attend Rural Electric Youth Days

Tom Hanna, General Manager of Top O' Michigan in Boyne City said students will be selected on the basis of their interest in cooperatives, their commitment to rural life, and their leadership potential.

Interested students, whose parents are members of the rural electric cooperative, should write a letter to the co-op expressing their desire to attend Rural Electric Youth Days '85. The deadline for letters is March 15, 1985.

"The 1985 Youth Days program will focus special attention on the 50th anniversary of rural electrification," Hanna said.

Chosen students will learn from a variety of activities and speakers about all types of cooperatives, especially rural electric cooperatives. They will also take part in mock board meetings.

Rural electric cooperatives have had a major impact on rural Michigan since they were formed following the formation of the Rural Electrification Administration (REA) 50 years ago. Hanna said, "Rural Electric Youth Days will acquaint students with the vital role cooperatives have in rural America and rural Michigan. This is a worthwhile educational experience, especially for those students who plan to remain in areas and occupations where cooperatives will play an important role in their
